STAFF RECRUITED ON CONTRACTS

In addition to permanent officials, the European Commission often recruits non-permanent staff. There are two categories of non-permanent staff:

- temporary agents are recruited to fill vacant positions for a set amount of time or to perform highly specialised tasks.
- contract agents may provide additional capacity in specialised fields where an insufficient number of officials is available or carry out a number of administrative or manual tasks. They are generally recruited for fixed-term contracts (maximum 6 years in any EU Institution), but in some cases they can be offered contracts for an indefinite duration (in offices, agencies, delegations or representations).

WE ARE

The Publications Office of the European Union is the official provider of publishing services to all EU institutions, bodies, and agencies. As such, it is the central point of access to EU law, as well as to publications, open data, research results, procurement notices and other official information. The Office thereby plays a central role in making it known to the public what the EU does and means for them, and in unlocking the power of data. Its mission is to support EU policies as a recognized competence centre for information, data and knowledge management, and to ensure that this broad range of information is available to the public as accessible and reusable data to facilitate transparency, economic activity and the diffusion of knowledge.

The Publications Office publishes in all the official languages of the European Union and continuously adapts its services to a rapidly evolving technological environment (e.g. data services, cloud computing, machine learning and artificial intelligence).

Unit A.3 manages the portfolio of Projects and Information Systems of the Publications Office. Our unit consists of highly qualified Digital Transformation Experts who provide technical expertise and manage the operation, development, and evolution of our systems. The unit applies service management methodologies to assist the operational units, helping them to define their IT needs and carrying out a constantly evolving work program while reporting to the management on the state of the projects. It elaborates and maintains OP's multi-annual IT plan and, in collaboration with the OP Governance unit, ensures efficiency and harmonisation of OP's IT architecture, in alignment with the Commission Digital Strategy, in particular the corporate reusable solutions and Dual-Pillar Approach.

WE PROPOSE

Unit OP.A.3 “Digital Solutions and Process Efficiency” is seeking to hire one Information Systems Architect.

The position will consist of an Information Systems Architect that will join the corporate IT Architecture team in the Digital Solutions and Process Efficiency unit, to provide expertise and leadership in the fields of Integration and Solution Architecture. Delivering the digital transformation of OP requires the constant evolution of information systems through many projects implemented each year, including renovation of legacy systems and design of new systems. A significant part of OP Information Systems are hosted in the cloud and new systems are planned to be cloud native. The responsibilities of the Security and Architecture Competence Centre cover the development and maintenance of the rolling Multiannual IT Plan and the underlying Enterprise Architecture, support and follow-up for IS architectures development and evolution, interaction with DIGIT, driving the lessons learned and continuous improvement processes, and maintaining regular communication with systems owners and other stakeholders.

The focus of the work of the Architect will be to improve the coherence of the information systems architecture, in alignment with the Commission Digital Strategy and the Multiannual IT Plan, in particular the corporate reusable solutions, Dual-Pillar Approach, and the Architecture Canvas. She/he will make technical choices for changes and new developments in cooperation with DIGIT and contractors, System Owners, System Managers and Project Managers.

She/he will also take an active expert role to define solution designs, architecture requirements and to perform architecture design, validation and verification activities, with particular attention to the aspects of their implementation in practice.

The job involves cooperation with other experts within the unit but also with many stakeholders across OP and within DIGIT.

We offer a mentoring programme to help newcomers settle into their new work environment, and we are committed to providing colleagues with professional training.

WE LOOK FOR

We are looking for an Information Systems Architect.

The ideal profile for the job is:

A self-motivated colleague, attentive to detail, with a mature sense of responsibility and the ability to follow-up on multiple tasks simultaneously.

Solution design and architecture experience, either on complex, large-scale systems and/or project experience with secure software development principles are strong assets. Experience with the design and implementation of cloud-native information systems and/or of content management systems would be an asset. Holding recognized vendor-neutral certifications in the field of software, IT or enterprise architecture is a plus.

A technical background in computer science or software engineering, experience with Commission's IT governance processes and the DIGIT service catalogue, knowledge of Dual-Pillar Approach, the Architecture Canvas tool and PM2 project management methodology would also be assets. The jobholder must be able to work autonomously and also be a good team player. Communication and negotiation skills, and the ability to communicate complex concepts, arrive at actionable conclusions and formulate clear recommendations are needed for this position. Strong organisational skills, readiness to adapt quickly to changes in the working environment, drafting and presentation skills are also required. Oral and written command of English is essential. Knowledge of French brings added value. It is not a prerequisite, beyond willingness to learn it.
