

MAKE A DIFFERENCE - JOIN THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION

Do you want to help shape the future of the European Union? Make the planet greener, promote a fairer society, or support businesses and innovation across the EU? Then come and work for the European Commission where you can really make a difference!

Commission staff are a diverse group of people, who are motivated to help make Europe – and the world – a better place. They come from the 27 Member States of the European Union. Different nationalities, backgrounds, languages and cultures make the Commission a vibrant and inclusive place to work.

WE OFFER GREAT JOBS AND GREAT WORKING CONDITIONS:

- Interesting and challenging positions with plenty of opportunities for training and acquiring new skills and competencies throughout your whole career
- Opportunities to try several areas or move between different policy areas in your career
- A package of flexible working conditions including the possibility of teleworking – we care about your work-life balance
- A competitive financial package, including comprehensive healthcare, accident and pension schemes
- A multilingual, multicultural workplace where personal and career development are strongly promoted
- Multilingual schools for your children

We recruit from a wide range of backgrounds and actively promote diversity and inclusion:

We do not only recruit political scientists and lawyers but are also looking for all kinds of profiles, including scientists, linguists, IT experts, data analysts and economists, as well as drivers and engineers.

We are committed to equal opportunities and to fostering a rich, diverse and inclusive working environment. We aim for our workforce to be representative of European society and strongly welcome applications from all qualified candidates. We actively seek to create a workplace where each staff member feels valued and respected, can give their best and can develop to their full potential.

To promote diversity and establish a geographically balanced pool of candidates, we strongly encourage applicants from Member States which are currently underrepresented in the European Commission workforce to apply. These Member States are currently Austria, Cyprus, the Czech Republic, Denmark, the Netherlands, Estonia, Finland, Germany, Ireland, Luxembourg, Malta, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia and Sweden¹. Recruitment will however remain strictly based on the merits of all applicants and no positions will be reserved for nationals of any specific Member State.

STAFF RECRUITED ON CONTRACTS

In addition to permanent officials, the European Commission offers non-permanent positions. There are two categories of non-permanent staff:

- temporary agents are recruited to fill vacant positions for a set amount of time or to perform highly specialised tasks.
- contract agents may provide additional capacity in specialised fields where an insufficient number of officials is available or carry out a number of administrative or manual tasks. They are generally recruited for fixed-term contracts (maximum 6 years in any EU Institution), but in some cases they can be offered contracts for an indefinite duration (in offices, agencies, delegations or representations).

¹ Please note that the list of underrepresented Member States may be subject to future amendment based on potential data changes over time.

Policy Officer in DG HERA of the European Commission

Job title*: Policy officer

Domain: Health

Where: HERA.4, Emergency Office

Function Group: FG IV

Contract Type: 3b

Express your interest until: 14.07.2025 - 12.00 (noon, Brussels time)

WE ARE

The newly created Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Authority (HERA) which is established as a Directorate-General of the European Commission.

The HERA shall assist the Commission to improve preparedness and response to serious cross-border threats in the area of medical countermeasures, in particular:

- strengthening health security coordination within the Union involving all relevant actors during preparedness and crisis response times and bringing together the EU Member States, industry and relevant stakeholders in a common effort;
- addressing vulnerabilities and strategic dependencies within the Union related to the development, production, procurement, stockpiling and distribution of medical countermeasures;
- contributing to reinforcing the global health emergency response architecture.

The HERA shall be responsible for the following tasks which shall be exercised in close cooperation with the Member States:

- assessment of health threats and intelligence gathering relevant to medical countermeasures;
- promoting advanced research and development of medical countermeasures and related technologies;
- addressing market challenges and boosting the Union's open strategic autonomy in medical countermeasures production;
- swift procurement and distribution of medical countermeasures;
- increasing stockpiling capacity of medical countermeasures;
- strengthening knowledge and skills in preparedness and response related to medical countermeasures.

In order to carry out these tasks, HERA uses different financing programs, in particular Horizon Europe, EU4Health and the Union Civil Protection Mechanism (RescEU). The HERA is assisted by the Coordination Committee, the HERA Board and the HERA Advisory Forum. HERA currently has 4 units.

HERA.04 “Emergency Office” is in charge of management of Health crisis. HERA’s Emergency Office has been established to ensure that HERA can provide a fast, efficient and effective EU coordinated response to cross-border health emergencies, by ensuring the provision of key medical countermeasures throughout the European Union, bringing together the EU, Member states, Industry and relevant stakeholders. The Emergency Office’s main purpose is to respond and proactively prepare for response to Emergencies as defined by the draft council regulation on “An Emergency framework for public health emergencies” which is a framework of measures for ensuring the supply of crisis-relevant medical countermeasures in the event of a public health emergency. The Emergency Office will also be ready and prepared to respond to events that do not necessarily meet the formal threshold of a “public health emergency”, but nevertheless requires an intervention by HERA, to support member states in accessing the necessary medical countermeasures. The emergency office will also be responsible for identifying Lessons learned, for reporting, including producing the final emergency report and for HERA.

WE PROPOSE

We propose a Policy Officer position for a talented, highly motivated and experienced colleague within the stockpiling team in HERA 04. This is a challenging and rewarding position that involves contributing to the design and implementation of policies related to health emergencies, drafting policy documents, notes and briefings, crafting responses to HERA identified threats, managing stockpiles, and engaging in policy discussions and development. The role also includes crisis management tasks during emergencies and collaborating closely with Member States and international entities. The assignment comprises frequent contacts with a large variety of different stakeholders, in particular: with other Commission services, EU agencies, in particular the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control (ECDC), the European Medicines Agency (EMA), the European Chemical Agency (ECHA), Europol, Member States, and external stakeholders such as industries. As a member of our team, you will contribute significantly to the EU's efforts in preparedness and response to cross-border health threats, making a tangible impact on public health policy.

WE LOOK FOR

A motivated candidate that has a medical background. The successful candidate should have strong analytical, drafting, problem-solving, and communication skills, and a keen ability to prioritize, organize tasks efficiently and deliver within tight deadlines. He/she should be able to work autonomously and in a team. An excellent command of English is required. The candidate should have excellent writing skills. The candidate should have very good interpersonal, networking and communications skills as he/she will have contacts with multiple internal and external stakeholders.
