In addition to permanent officials, the European Commission offers non-permanent positions. There are two categories of non-permanent staff:

- temporary agents are recruited to fill vacant positions for a set amount of time or to perform highly specialised tasks.
- contract agents may provide additional capacity in specialised fields where an insufficient number of officials is available or carry out a number of administrative or manual tasks. They are generally recruited for fixed-term contracts (maximum 6 years in any EU Institution), but in some cases they can be offered contracts for an indefinite duration (in offices, agencies, delegations or representations).

WE ARE

COMP.B2 is one of the key contributors to the State Aid policy for European energy markets. We contribute to ensure an efficient transition of the energy sector in line with the Clean Industrial Deal and to improve the functioning of energy markets. Our main mission is to enforce EU State aid control in the electricity and gas sectors and to ensure affordable, secure and clean energy for European consumers, while ensuring a level playing field across firms and Member States. In this context, we assess State aid measures adopted by Member States and contribute to State aid policy that facilitates the energy transition. We focus on cases which concern support for renewable and low carbon energy, energy storage, flexibility and security of supply. Cases typically concern new technologies and/or large amounts of aid requiring a detailed legal and economic assessment. We operate in a network with our sister unit COMP.B3 and in close contact with other State aid, antitrust and merger units responsible for competition in the energy sector, as well as with other Commission services, regulatory bodies and institutions.

The position of Legal officer/Case handler provides the opportunity to cover a wide range of legal and policy issues in the competition and energy sectors and to contribute to high-profile case assessments, ensuring excellent prospects for personal and professional development.
