STAFF RECRUITED ON CONTRACTS

In addition to permanent officials, the European Commission offers non-permanent positions. There are two categories of non-permanent staff:

- temporary agents are recruited to fill vacant positions for a set amount of time or to perform highly specialised tasks.
- contract agents may provide additional capacity in specialised fields where an insufficient number of officials is available or carry out a number of administrative or manual tasks. They are generally recruited for fixed-term contracts (maximum 6 years in any EU Institution), but in some cases they can be offered contracts for an indefinite duration (in offices, agencies, delegations or representations).

in DG HERA of the European Commission

Job title*: Policy officer
Domain**: Health

Where: HERA.4, Emergency Office

Function Group: FG IV Contract Type: 3b

Express your interest until: 21.11.2025 - 12.00 (noon, Brussels time)

WE ARE

The European Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Authority (HERA) is the Directorate General of the European Commission responsible for preparedness and response to serious cross-border threats in the area of medical countermeasures (MCM), in particular by:

- strengthening health security coordination within the Union involving all relevant actors during preparedness and crisis response times and bringing together the EU Member States, industry and relevant stakeholders in a common effort;
- addressing vulnerabilities and strategic dependencies within the Union related to the development, production, procurement, stockpiling and distribution of medical countermeasures;
- contributing to reinforcing the global health emergency response architecture.

The HERA shall be responsible for the following tasks which shall be exercised in close cooperation with the Member States:

- assessment of health threats and intelligence gathering relevant to medical countermeasures;
- promoting advanced research and development of medical countermeasures and related technologies;
- addressing market challenges and boosting the Union's open strategic autonomy in medical countermeasures production;
- swift procurement and distribution of medical countermeasures;
- increasing stockpiling capacity of medical countermeasures;
- strengthening knowledge and skills in preparedness and response related to medical countermeasures.

HERA.04 "Emergency Office" is in charge of management of Health crisis. HERA's Emergency Office has been established to ensure that HERA can provide a fast, efficient and effective EU coordinated response to cross-border health emergencies, by ensuring the provision of key medical countermeasures throughout the European Union, bringing together the EU, Member states, Industry and relevant stakeholders. The Emergency Office's main purpose is to respond and proactively prepare for response to Emergencies as defined by the draft council regulation on "An Emergency framework for public health emergencies" which is a framework of measures for ensuring the supply of crisis-relevant medical countermeasures in the event of a public health emergency. The Emergency Office will also be ready and prepared to respond to events that do not necessarily meet the formal threshold of a "public health emergency", but nevertheless requires an intervention by HERA, to support member states in accessing the necessary medical countermeasures. The emergency office will also be responsible for identifying Lessons learned, for reporting, including producing the final emergency report and for HERA.

WE PROPOSE

We propose a policy officer position for a highly motivated colleague in the "Emergency Office" within DG HERA (Unit 04). This role will focus on addressing chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear (CBRN) threats, alongside challenges stemming from armed conflicts.

The appointed officer will play a crucial role in developing and implementing EU policies and activities in response to these threats with a focus in particular on civil military cooperation. Responsibilities include contributing to policy elaboration, drafting necessary procedures and guidelines, and coordinating with various Directorates-General to ensure alignment with EU priorities.

The position requires maintaining a robust network with stakeholders such as other Commission services, EU agencies, Member States and NATO. The officer will also be involved in active policy implementation during crises, including health threat management and the preparation for future emergencies. This dynamic role entails significant engagement across institutional levels, potentially requiring participation in events outside regular working hours during crisis situations.

WE LOOK FOR

We look for a person who demonstrates a genuine interest and, ideally, possesses practical experience and extensive knowledge in one or more of the following areas: defence, civil-military cooperation, hybrid threats, and countering CBRN threats. This role requires experience interacting with defence ministries and NATO representatives. The ideal candidate should have the ability to think strategically, work proactively, prioritize political imperatives, and possess a good understanding of EU institutions.

The successful applicant will be adept at analysing and prioritizing tasks and collaborating effectively within diverse teams. Essential qualities include flexibility in both working hours and task assignments, resilience, and the capacity to manage multiple projects simultaneously. Strong drafting, communication, and public speaking skills are necessary, along with the ability to produce high-quality written documents. The candidate should be proficient in participating in internal and international meetings and conferences on behalf of the Commission and conferences, and must be adaptable to changing responsibilities and eager to learn about various topics related to the role. A very good command of English is required.

The applicant must have a security clearance.

HOW TO EXPRESS YOUR INTEREST?

With a view to guaranteeing equal access to all, the Commission recruits from an open database of spontaneous applications. The present call for interests aims at helping the recruiters to identify potentially interested candidates within this database.

In practice, to express your interest, please follow the subsequent two steps:

- 1. If you are not registered yet in the open EPSO database, please do so at the following address: CAST Permanent. Please select under selection procedures for contract agent the CAST permanent profile that best suits your education and experience.
- 2. You should send your documents in a single pdf in the following order:
